LOCAL NEWS.

WEATHER PROGNOSTICS, April 28, 1879.
For the Middle Atlantic States warmer southerly winds, veering to cooler north and west, falling followed by rising barometer, cloudy and rainy followed by clearing weather.

ALEXANDRIA JURYMEN.—The Richmond Intelligencer gives the personnel of the members of the jury in the Poindexter trial, of which the following relates to those from this city:
Mr. Henry Janney is a middle aged gentleman of spare figure and had a clear-shaven face.

Mr. Bossart is a flashy gentleman with a French face and a German figure. He might have been fifty five years of age. He was slightly bald, and wore a heavy Bismarck mustache. He had an intelligent face. He was the first man called and the first man dropped.

Mr. E. H. Clarkson—stout build; age, about 35 or 40; reddish hair and whiskers, the latter worn in English style.

R. S. Windsor—another young man; rather slight build; dark hair; slight mustache and side whiskers.

William Shannon—age, about 45.
T. L. Moore—quite a handsome man; age, about 35.

Mr. H. L. English is a gentleman of small build.

Mr. J. C. Nevitt, a tall gentleman, aged about sixty, wearing gold spectacles, entered the room. He was a rather striking looking old gentleman, and his entrance into the court room attracted more attention than that of any venireman save Mr. Forbes. About six feet in height, straight as Joe Johnson, he came up to the clerk's desk, and after being sworn, he took his seat and looked the Judge straight in the face. When Judge Christian pronounced the question whether he had any conscientious scruples as to the infliction of capital punishment he answered with a decided negative, which indicated that he would not be a jurymen.

Looking at him as he sat in the chair he could be put down as having a profile after the order of Napoleon III as seen on the French medals. He wore a mustache, and rather heavy goatee, iron gray in hue. When the Judge asked, "Col. Young, do you desire to ask him any questions?" Mr. Nevitt wheeled himself around in his chair with military precision and looked the Colonel in the face. After he was told to take his seat he looked each venireman in the face in a scrutinizing manner.

THE AGRICULTURAL AND INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of the directors of the above association was held at the Commercial Exchange this morning.

John B. Smoot, Esq., presided and there were present Messrs. P. B. Hoos, E. A. Reed, J. H. Smoot, R. E. Roberts, C. L. Jackson, Thomas H. Baker, John B. Balenger, N. W. Pierson, Edgar Snowden and J. V. Beckham.

President Smoot reported that he had seen Mr. Townsend Baggett, who owns the land adjoining the Fair grounds on the north and that he had positively refused either to sell or lease any of the property owned by him.

This decision is a source of disappointment, both to the directors and the community, who are much interested in the success of the scheme to secure the grounds named.

Mr. N. W. Pierson, from the committee appointed for that purpose, reported back a set of by laws for the government of the association, which were read and considered and recommended favorably to the stockholders for adoption.

A meeting of the stockholders was ordered to be called for Monday next, May 5, to consider and take action on the by-laws.

Messrs. N. W. Pierson, R. P. Roberts, and Edgar Snowden were appointed a committee to consider and report upon the feasibility of holding a strawberry and floral exhibition during the month of June, they to report to an adjourned meeting of the directors on Monday next.

The holding of such an exhibition has been urged by the fruit growers and floriculturists in the adjoining county.

"CITY FEARS."—Rev. W. R. Graham, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church, preached a sermon to his congregation last night on "City Fears." He commenced his discourse with a denunciation of the modern drama, which he regarded as especially demoralizing to the young.

Shakespeare's plays also were pronounced to be a bad cause for serious alarm, but the play at present was generally a mirror of corrupted tastes, and calculated, and no doubt intended, to pander to the depraved appetites of fallen human nature, and said the theatre was, therefore, no place for any disciple of Christ to spend his leisure hours.

He then spoke of the drinking and gambling houses of this city, which were not only demoralizing the whole community, but were alluring residents of other cities into the same vices, and swell ing frightfully the vast multitudes which were being hurled along on the highway of destruction.

As a minister of the Gospel and a servant of Jesus Christ, he appealed to the proper authorities to put a stop to such proceedings. Such vile practices were not only indulged in on week days, but it had become a regular thing to devote the entire Sabbath to the gratification of these passions. There was a time coming, and for aught we knew, was now close at hand, when, like Dives of old, they would be lifting up their voices from the place of torment beseeching others to go to the friends they leave behind and implore the denizens of such places to turn from their evil ways, and avoid entering the condemnation which they too, will certainly enter if they repeat not.

SWINDLED.—The following from the Washington Post is probably the sequel to the "Mysterious Affair" mentioned in Saturday's Gazette:

"The latest victim of the Washington 'guides' is a gentleman who hails from Iowa, and gives his name as David Thompson. It appears that Thompson, with his brother, both of whom are intelligent looking gentlemen, arrived in the city last week, and on Friday employed a guide to take them to the depot. After doing the city the party paid a visit to Alexandria by steamer, and while there were joined by two other nice gentlemen, friends of the guide. As a matter of news, they reported that the body of Gen. Custis was being buried across the river, and in order to see that ceremony a small boat took them across to the Maryland shore. They did not see any funeral, but after a walk, which brought them within the district line, some one suggested a little game by way of diversion, and before he knew it David had been swindled out of a cool three hundred dollars, and was left to get back the best way he could. Of course they complained to the police, and the same evening Detectives Coomes and Acton arrested one of the party, named W. S. Snyder, on the charge of conspiracy to swindle, and he is held at headquarters. They are still on the lookout for the other, who got off with the money."

CASE SETTLED.—The case in which Mr. James E. Clements, teacher of Walker school has been prosecuted for punishing a biligerent pupil, was to-day, upon application of the Commonwealth's Attorney, dismissed at the request of the Commonwealth.

The case has been tried by two juries, both disagreeing; one juror disagreeing in the first and two in the second, while eleven and ten were respectively for exonerating the teacher. This case has excited considerable interest, but has at last been settled satisfactorily to the maintenance of discipline and the rights a teacher has in his official capacity.

SINCE many Alexandrians and Virginians generally will spend their money in Washington and positively pay more for garments than the like can be procured here, I will pay to any person buying from me his expense to Washington, for examination, either in ordinary or fine, according to quality and manufacturer, or not the cheapest I will return the money.

The order heretofore made confirming a contract with Ewell & Co., for building a bridge over Pimmett's run was revoked and a new contract with the Cleveland Bridge and Iron Co. was confirmed.

The following persons were appointed judges of election:

Arlington District—W. T. Burroughs, Horatio Bull and S. B. Corbett.

Washington District—Edward Deeb, Christopher Castello and William Tucker.

The following were appointed commissioners of election:

L. W. Hatch, Philip Sausbury, W. T. Burroughs, S. B. Corbett and C. Castello.

A license was granted to N. S. Wright to keep a bar room.

Com. vs. Peter C. Harrison; perjury; jury and case in progress.

COUNTY POLITICS.—The Republicans of Washington District held a meeting on Thursday night last to nominate district officers and elect delegates to the county republican convention.

The nominations were for Supervisor, Francis G. Seabury; Magistrates, A. B. Granwell, John C. Brown and John B. Whitehall; Constable, H. K. Dancy; Overseer of the Poor, Moses Jackson; Commissioner of Roads, C. C. Nelson.

The following were elected delegates to the county convention: L. G. Cunningham, C. C. Nelson, C. Castello, Messrs. Jackson and John H. Mitchell, Alternates, J. B. Mansfield and H. K. Dancy.

Speeches were made endorsing Jefferson Tacey for Treasurer and Benjamin Austin for Clerk.

FLORAL DISPLAY.—Persons who admire and appreciate the beauties of nature, particularly as exhibited in the floral display of God's marvelous works, should avail themselves of the opportunity to see the Siberian crab tree now in full bloom in the yard of Mr. W. N. McVeigh, on St. Asaph street, near the postoffice.

It is a beautiful shrub, and every year attracts much attention on account of its luxuriant bloom, which is so thick as to hide the leaves and branches of the tree. The fruit from this tree is so bitter and small as to render it unfit for domestic purposes. The bloom only remains a few days.

POLICE ITEMS.—The following cases have been tried by the mayor since Saturday.

Charles Moore, for assaulting and beating Elizabeth Egan, was dismissed on payment of costs.

Temple Ekins, an insane colored boy, for assaulting and beating Mrs. Charles Moore and child, was sent to the Work house for safe keeping.

Dave Lomax, colored, for being drunk and disorderly on the street was sent to jail for 15 days, in default of payment of fine.

YESTERDAY.—The weather yesterday was pleasant and the streets were lined with people. The various churches, as is usual on pleasant Sundays, were well attended.

Rev. Mr. Chapman, of the Baptist Church in the morning, and the Rev. Mr. Cave in the Union Presbyterian Church at night. There were no services in Grace church. A children's meeting was held in the M. E. church at night.

A protracted meeting was commenced in the M. E. church Sunday, which will be continued during the week. Rev. Mr. Pearce preaching to-night and Rev. Mr. Graham tomorrow night.

OVERBOARD.—Mr. Richard Phillips, while standing on the fish wharf yesterday evening, was pushed overboard by a passer by, and had a severe ducking. He had to be helped out of the water by the wharf.

The mate of a small steamer, lying near the foot of Cameron street, jumped overboard yesterday, and had to be hauled out by the crew. The jump was prompted by a bet of $2, made with a companion.

DOGS.—Several supposed cases of madness amongst dogs, in town, have been reported in the past few days. So much fear has been excited among the neighbors that they are poisoning dogs on all sides, and several fine animals have fallen victims to their terror.

Mr. H. V. Dand, living at the corner of Franklin and Columbus streets, had a valuable imported hunting dog poisoned yesterday.

FISH REPORT.—Since Saturday there has been received at the Fish Wharf about 5,000 shad and 200,000 herrings. The receipts of perch and rock have been very small and not worthy of report. Shad sold at $75-$10 per hundred and herrings at $65-$82 per thousand.

PERSONAL.—Rev. Dr. J. J. Bullock, pastor of the Union Presbyterian Church, left this morning for Princeton, N. J., where he is to deliver an address before the students of Princeton College.

We do not believe in medicine for children, but we do believe in Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup and assert that no family should be without it.

THE PRINCIPLE.—Notwithstanding the strong pressure for "cheap" goods to which most manufacturers have yielded by lowering both quality and price, I have maintained the highest standard of our product while reducing prices by every legitimate means. The people are tired of "cheap" clothing, bought out of necessity, and the country's improvement is evidenced by the growing demand for better goods. For the spring of 1879 I have prepared one of the choicest stocks of Stylish Clothing I ever produced, and my prices are as low as the cost of labor and material will permit. Terms cash.

S. KATZENSTEIN,
310 7th street, Washington, D. C.
Near Pennsylvania Avenue.

Dr. GILES—I have been exceedingly successful in giving my Limiment in my practice; particularly in cases of paralysis it has worked wonders. I have seen those who have not been able to walk for years, recover the use of their limbs, and one gentleman in particular, who had visited Europe and the hot springs in Arkansas without benefit, after having your Limiment applied, was restored and able to resume his usual avocations. You have a price laid before you, and may you go on and prosper, for you certainly have benefited mankind by your valuable discovery.
